

WBMH Law's Sarah Bennett: On a Roll!

14 December 2018 from Walther Bennett Mayo Honeycutt P.C.

Santa Fe, December 14th, 2018/Press Release - In August, Sarah Bennett was named Best Lawyers® Santa Fe Family Law Lawyer of the Year. It was her second time being honored as Lawyer of the Year in seven years. Last week, she received the prestigious Martindale-Hubbell AV Preeminent Special Edition Judicial Award. It's been quite a year.

Martindale-Hubbell published its first Law Directory in 1868. Despite new competitors in the field, Martindale-Hubbell's ratings remain the gold standard in the legal profession. The peer review-based AV Preeminent Rating is an outstanding achievement and according to Martindale-Hubbell, demonstrates that a lawyer has earned the highest possible ratings available for legal and professional ethics. Bennett now adds the Judicial Edition Rating, a distinction based not on peer review, but on the confidential opinions of members of the Judiciary.

This recognition comes at the height of Bennett's forty+ year career, the last fifteen of which have been as a board-certified Family Law Specialist. In that capacity, she has been instrumental in broadening the practice in New Mexico to include collaborative practice and to refine it as a member of the Supreme Court Domestic Relations Rules Committee.

In 2017, Bennett joined forces with David Walther, Amber Macias-Mayo and Morgan Honeycutt to form WBMH Law. Along with her WBMH partners, Bennett currently focuses on complex family law cases in which financial, geographic or case-specific complexities require the highest level of competence. WBMH serves New Mexico and out-of-state clients from offices located at 123 E. Marcy Street, Suite 205, in Santa Fe, New Mexico.
